Mile Stanic, Overall, United Serbian

Mile was born in Yugoslavia in 1942.

He started his soccer career playing for his high school. After high school he played regional adult amateur soccer which was very similar to Wisconsin adult soccer.

In 1966 Mile joined his sister in the United States. He immediately became a member of the Serbian White Eagle Soccer Club, which became United Serbian Soccer Club. For 8 years he was a standard defensive-back. Younger players were arriving from Yugoslavia and slowly filling the Majors team. He continued playing for the Reserve Division of the United Serbian Soccer Club for many years. He was coach and manager in 1974 for the United Serbian Soccer Club.

For the next 13 years he played and coached the United Serbian Old Timers, who played in many ethnic tournaments in Canada and the United States against some of the best players.

In 1977, Mile decided to start refereeing. That didn't last very long because he had too much pride in what he knew about the game. He couldn't stand others telling him how to ref the game.

He currently resides in New Berlin with his wife Dorothy.
